

MRS. CLAY'S FARM BRINGS OVER $200

L. P. Evans Conducts Another Successful Sale of Fine Madison Blue Grass Land

Real Estate Agent L. P. Evans, of Richmond, scored another fine success when he sold the big farm of Mrs. Mary Harris Clay, of Paris, at auction Tuesday morning, at an average of over $200 an acre. There was a big crowd at the sale, with buyers from half a dozen counties. The farm sold in three tracts, 573 acres being included in the whole sale.

Prominent real estate men from all sections were on hand for this big sale. All are of the opinion that land is still on the upgrade, with no probability of a lowering in the market within sight.

Mrs. Clay's farm was located six miles south of Richmond at Harris Flat on the L. & N. railroad, and on the Menalus pike. It is part of "Blythwood" the famous farm of the late Major John D. Harris, who in his day was one of the biggest cattle feeders in this part of the state. The three tracts were sold as follows:

Tract No. 1, containing 142.62 acres, was bought by John C. Stone, of Lexington, at $245.25 per acre. There are no improvements on this land, except stock scales; it is all in blue grass and has been for a number of years.

Tract No. 2, containing 200 acres, was bought by W. F. Moody, of Kingston, at $250.10 an acre. This tract contains a four-room cottage, two tenant houses, and what is said to be the largest tobacco barn in Madison county.

Tract No. 3, containing 229.87 acres, was bought by John W. Herndon, of Berea. This land is all in grass except 15 acres, and is splendid tobacco land, as is all of the farm.

The sale was a splendid one in every way and another of the successes that Mr. Evans is making this season in the farms which he is handling. He is being warmly congratulated upon having conducted such a satisfactory affair in every way.

Col. Bolivar Bond was the auctioneer, and at his best.

Democrats Go To Convention

A number of Madison county democrats will go to Louisville Wednesday afternoon to attend the Democratic State platform convention which convenes there Thursday at noon. The attendance is expected to be very large for each county in the state, has a delegate for each 50 votes cast for Wilson in 1916. Madison selected her 66 delegates last Saturday. News from Louisville that practically all of the hotels have all their rooms reserved already is calculated to cut down the attendance somewhat. The State Bankers' Association convenes in the Falls City at the same time.

TEACHERS HAVE INTERESTING MEETING

The second Teachers' meeting since the organization of the teachers of Madison county was held in the county court room at 10 a. m. Saturday, with 40 present. Devotional exercises were conducted by Prof. B. F. Dizney, followed by songs which were taught during the Institute by Dr. S. S. Myers.

The question of local diseases was the subject of discussion as to preventive of epidemics, sustaining the teachers in using their judgement to decide and keep diseases out of the schools and out of the community. The topic was discussed by Miss Adelia Fox, Prof. Dizney, Miss Marie Quillen and Mrs. Ida Tribble.

Supervisor J. B. Harris said that he had visited 30 schools and found the teachers doing unusually good work.

Illiterates in the county were recorded by districts as far as known. Unusually small number was found as to white illiterates. Means were discussed by which this small number can be eradicated. Supt. Edwards talked upon the future work of the teachers in the county and in regard to an appeal to the general assembly regarding legislation.

At the next meeting of the teachers on Sept. 27th, a male quartet composed of Paris B. Aiken, Eugene Spurlock, Charles Edwards and David Brooks will sing "Grandfather's Farm," and other selections, which will be a decided addition to the program.

MALICIOUS RUMORS BRANDED UNTRUE

Wild Reports Circulated That Local Business Men Were Caught Profiteering

Reports have been circulating in Richmond for the past two weeks or so that government secret service agents have been investigating alleged cases of profiteering among the business men of this city. First reports had it that butchers and grocers were the objects of investigations. But as rumors always do, they grew as they spread, and the latest had it that clothing merchants and other lines were also investigated.

So far as the Daily Register has been able to learn, there is not one scintilla of foundation for these reports. If government secret service agents have been here, they have kept mighty quiet about it. U. S. Commissioner Warfield Bennett and U. S. Clerk L. A. Burnam, before whom any for whom warrants might be issued, would be taken for examining trial, say that they know nothing of the matter whatever; that no one has been brought before them, and no warrants have been issued. One rumor had it that one business man had been held under $1,000 bond to await action of the federal grand jury, for giving short weight in goods he was selling.

Just how these reports and false rumors got started has not yet been learned. One prominent business man says that he will give $100 reward for the name of the person who first started the report about him. It was alleged in his instance that he sold some edibles to the government agent as weighing six pounds, when the latter pulled a pair of scales and found it weighing only four. This gentleman says that no government agent has been in his store so far as he knows and he would welcome them to come in at any time and test the weights and quantities that he is giving his customers for their money.

Another local business man, according to false rumors, was said to have sold one of the government sleuths a suit of clothes for $60. The sleuth, according to the story, then exhibited his badge, and demanded that the merchant show his invoice from the manufacturer of the clothes. This was said to have shown that he paid $25 for the goods. This report is also branded as a lie out of the whole cloth, as are the other reports which have been spread broadcast, about many of Richmond's most reputable business men.

Such rumors are almost impossible to trace down to their origin and are calculated to do a great deal of damage to the innocent victims. They have been spread broadcast but nothing whatever has been developed to show that there is the slightest foundation for them in any way.

Mrs. Bronston Rents Her Farm

Mrs. J. C. Bronston did not sell her nice little farm on the Barnes Mill pike, on Silver creek, Tuesday as advertised. There are 133 acres in the boundary.

TO VOTE AGAIN ON SPECIAL ROAD TAX

Madison Can Share In $5,000,000 Federal Aid To Kentucky If Voters Favor The Plan

Madison county voters will be given another opportunity to vote on the question of a 20-cent tax to improve the roads of the county and obtain a large sum from the federal and state aid funds in so doing.

At the regular meeting of the Fiscal Court Tuesday morning, an election was called to be held on the regular election day, November 4th, to test out the tax question again. Many of those who are in favor of the county voting the tax believe that it will carry at this time, for the need of good roads was never so apparent, nor was there ever such a splendid opportunity to obtain co-operation of the state and government in paying the cost of road work.

Mr. Dawson, a representative of the State Road Department, who spoke before the Fiscal Court, said that Kentucky's share of the government road funds this year will amount to close to $5,000,000, and that no county should overlook such a splendid opportunity to receive a part of this big fund, to assist in its work.

The magistrates, who are kept fully in touch with road conditions over the county, will earnestly urge the voting of this extra tax at the next election. The court voted to submit the question to an election again, by a majority of 7 to 1, Squire Long being the only magistrate who opposed it.

Tarvia on the roads received considerable attention from the magistrates. Many farmers are reporting that the road becomes so hard and slick where tarvia has been applied as to endanger the lives of horses which fall on it. Several near accidents were reported. The opinion was expressed that on a level road, tarvia is without an equal as a road covering but on hilly stretches, it is proving hard on those who have to drive or ride, and do not own automobiles. Only two miles of the pike each way out of Richmond have had tarvia applied so far, and no plans have yet been made for further application of the tarvia at this time.

HUNS WARNED TO CUT OUT AUSTRIA

(By Associated Press) Paris, Sept. 2.—Bulletin—The supreme council of the peace conference has decided to send a forceful note to the German Government pointing out the contradiction with the Versailles treaty of a provision in the new German constitution providing for representation of Austria in Germany's reichsrath. The council has demanded the suppression of the article within a fortnight declaring otherwise the Allies will be compelled to undertake a further occupation of the left bank of the Rhine.

The article objected to in the German constitution has not been received in this country, but apparently provides that Austria might have a certain number of representatives in the German parliament proportionate to the Austrian population. It is held to conflict with the German peace treaty forbidding German interference in Austrian affairs.

BOOTLEGGING THEORY

Held By Nashville Police Investigating Cooper Murder.

(By Associated Press) Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—The police announce that J. E. Feuston, arrested in connection with the murder of Robin Cooper here last week, has been released. Investigation showed he was on a train en route from Louisville, Ky., the night Cooper was killed. Casey Jordan, a woman was also arrested and is being questioned in regard to the murder.

The arrests indicated that the police have abandoned abruptly the theory on which they said they had built up a case—that blackmailers had killed the young lawyer—and had returned to their original belief that bootleggers had lured Cooper from his home and put him to death.

According to police, Feuston is a dealer in liquor of a high grade, and is thought to have made dealings with members of exclusive clubs. When arrested Feuston and the woman were in an automobile containing, the police say, 150 quarts of whisky.

Evidence that another automobile was involved in the tragedy was given the police by a negro farmer.

He said he was driving his team home Thursday night about 10 o'clock, the hour fixed as the time of the murder, when he saw some one slowly back an automobile off the road into the place where Cooper's automobile was found, 23 hours later.

Then a man leaped out of the machine, the negro said, walked to another automobile parked near by, turned on the lights and sped away. The first automobile was left with lights burning, the negro said.

(By Associated Press) Paris, Sep. 2.—Capt. Constipation Results When Hot Weather Stops Exercise

WHEN the system has become accustomed to a certain daily routine of exercise and food, health is quick to suffer if that routine is interfered with. The bowels are first to notice the change.

Different water is enough to constipate. Changes of food when traveling, much sitting by those accustomed to long walks will do it. It is especially true that when elderly people change their routine they quickly become constipated. Yet elderly people should be particularly careful to keep their bowels open, especially during the hot months.

A better remedy for the purpose cannot be found on a druggist's shelf than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin which trains the stomach-muscles to do their work naturally so that medicines can be dispensed with. Only a small dose is needed, and unlike harsh physics and cathartics, it acts gently and without griping.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size, or a free trial bottle will be sent on receipt of your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

PEARSON-GIVES OPEN LETTER TO PUBLIC

To my friends and fellow citizens of Madison County:

You probably noticed in these columns some time ago that I had accepted a position with the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse Co. of Lancaster, Ky., to sell tobacco there this next season. I did accept a position with these people and fully intended to go there at that time. However, I soon realized that I had made a mistake by going into the tobacco business because I was getting just about all I could do in real estate and farm sales work, so I asked the gentlemen at Lancaster, Ky., to release me which they were kind enough to do. So I take this method of announcing to my friends and the general public that I have opened offices in the Oldham building and will do a general real estate and insurance business.

Having been closely associated with some of the leading real estate firms in Kentucky and having helped to put through some of the biggest propositions these firms have handled, I feel that I am competent to handle your business along this line.

I have also secured the agency for two of the leading insurance companies of America and having just completed a course of instruction with the National Co-operative Realty Co. of Washington, D. C., in the real estate, insurance and general brokerage business I feel that I can handle your insurance business in an up-to-date manner.

I am not entering this business because I feel that any one of you owe me your business but because I believe I can win your business through service, fair treatment and courtesy. I will sell your property privately or at auction. Will pay all expenses of sale and sell on a commission or will conduct your sale for you for a fee.

Please remember I did not merely pick up auctioneering as a profession but have made a scientific study of it just as your doctor or lawyer has his profession and will soon receive my diploma from the Missouri Auction School of Kansas City, Missouri.

Holding a public sale is like unto a wedding from the fact that you are not supposed to have but one or two in a life time so you should have it done up right.

And then stop and think for a moment, you and your good wife have worked all these years and gotten your things together and now you are going to convert them into cash in just one day's time or probably a few hours. Are you sure you have a man in charge who understands the sale business from end to end?

If you are thinking of having a sale come in and let us talk the matter over. I will be glad to help you get your bills.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES H. PEARSON,
Richmond, Ky.

Camouflage in Reverse.

Reversal of the camouflage principle, greatly increasing the visibility of its subjects instead of concealing them by blending them with the background, is declared a possible peace development by the naval officer who developed that particular nature-faking system. Since every positive has its negative, color applications opposite to those used for confusing the eye are being studied for a possible standardized system of making distant objects conspicuous.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Whitesburg, Ky., rightly boasts of having it over all others when it comes to marriage and birth marriages. Rev. Wm. Little is father of 28 children, nearly all of whom are living. He has been married four times averaging seven children to each union. There have been three sets of twins, two sets by his present wife. Rev. Little, who is about 70 years old, resides near Raccoon, Perry county. He is still in vigorous health.

Probably the largest record ever filed with the Court of Appeals at Frankfort is the one in the case of R. C. Morgan and others of Lexington, against the Big Woods Lumber Company of Menifee county. Plaintiffs are seeking $30,000 damages for lumber removed from the land by the lumber company and $3,000 for trespassing.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Miss Hixson, Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tex.—"About 10 years ago," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

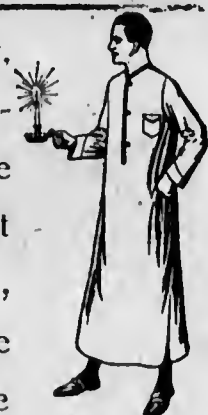

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists. NO-121

GREAT RACE PROMISED IN $14,000 FUTURITY

The Kentucky Futurity, the most coveted of all races for three-year-old trotters, not alone for the richness of its money value of $14,000, but for the honor and distinction it carries through a long succession of years, has not been won by a native Kentuckian since 1895, when Oakland Baron triumphed for the late Robert G. Stoner, of Paris, but it now seems likely that the 1919 renewal is to fall to a very distinguished citizen of the Blue Grass State.

At Readville, Mass., last Thursday, Molly Knight won. The Horse Breeder Futurity, trotting the second heat in 2:06 1-4, the fastest mile of the year thus far by a three-year-old trotter, and moved into third place in the list of the season's money winners. Molly Knight is a bay filly by General Watts.

Molly Knight is owned by Hon. Henry M. Bosworth, of Fayette county, former State Treasurer, then State Auditor, and again, after four years out of politics, the Democratic nominee for State Auditor.

Molly Knight's trainer and driver is that distinguished Tennessee reinsman, Edward F. (Pop) Geers, and he will pilot her in the race for the Kentucky Futurity at the Kentucky Thoroughbred Breeders' Association track at Lexington, Tuesday, September 30, when it is expected that thousands of people from all sections of the country will be on hand to witness the battle that Periscope, Abbie Putney, Norman Dillon, Brusiloff, Princess Etawah, Little Lee, Charley Herr, Jr., Judge Rico, Peter L., Wiki Wiki, Grace Drake, Let Fly, and perhaps Harveta, Peter Coast and others will wage against her.

Three others of the trotters mentioned above are owned by Kentuckians, they being Charley Herr, Jr., property of "Uncle Davy" Cahill, of Lexington, Periscope, owned by John L. Dodge, who has his home at Hollywood Farm, near Lexington, and Little Lee, the property of G. L. Knight, of Nicholasville. The trots at Lexington will open September 29 and continue ten days.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS ENDORSE THRIFT.

California Organization Adopts Resolutions to Aid in W. S. S. Campaign For 1919.

The attitude of church organizations toward the movement for thrift and savings is exemplified in a resolution adopted recently by the Christian Endeavor Union of California. The resolution authorizes the citizenship department to co-operate with the California Savings officials to make the 1919 thrift movement a success. The resolution follows:

"Be it recommended by the California Christian Endeavor Union that it fully endorse and urge that, as essential to character formation, to the welfare of the American people, and to the promotion of the national habit, the practice of the national program of thrift instruction, the organization of savings societies and the sale of Thrift Stamps and Savings Stamps become a part of the public procedure; and that the citizenship department of the California Christian Endeavor Union be named to co-operate with each state division of the War Savings Organization for California toward making the government plan of 1919 a success."

ARE NOT NEGOTIABLE.

War Savings Certificates Are Not to Be Used as Collateral, But It Is Easy to Cash Them.

Recent statements appearing in the public prints tending to indicate that War Savings Stamps may be used as collateral to secure loans, or for other purposes, are erroneous, according to a statement by L. A. Wilson, federal director for the War Savings Organization for the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

It is directly antagonistic to the Federal law, says Wilson. The law explicitly states that War Savings Stamps are not negotiable and may not be transferred by the holder. He may, if necessity demands that he obtain the money he has invested in them, give 10 days' notice and have them redeemed at any post office. But to negotiate them through any channel not prescribed by the government is prohibited.

A thrifty man is safe from worry. Buy wisely, save intelligently, and invest in Thrift and War Savings Stamps.

Lodge Pin Saved Life of Chink in Mexico

Juarez, Mexico, Sept. 1 — A lodge pin and grip saved the life of a Chinese merchant of Parral when Francisco Villa's troops captured Parral American consul here upon his arrival from the interior recently.

The Chinese merchant, refused to permit his name to be attached to the statement for fear he would be killed if he fell into Villa's hands. He swore that he saw three of his cousins dragged thru the streets of Parral by rebels and burned at the stake.

A demand for $5,000 was made upon him upon threat of death, the merchant said. He told the Villa colonel he did not have this amount and he was about to be ordered shot, he said, when he noticed a lodge pin on the lapel of the colonel's coat. The merchant said he belonged to the Chinese organization which was similar to the one which the officer belonged to and they exchanged handshakes. The ransom was reduced to $2,000 and he was finally permitted to go.

NEW ISSUE OF W. S. S. PLACED ON SALE

A new issue of War Savings Stamps has been placed on sale at the postoffice and banks which makes its appeal to a larger class of investors than those who have bought the 25 cent and 55 stamps. The new issue is in denominations of $100 and $1,000 and has the same good features of the smaller stamps.

They are free from taxation like the $5 stamps, and pay 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly, equivalent to straight interest at 4.27 per cent. The stamps can also be converted at any time on ten days' notice.

The $100 certificate can be bought this month at the postoffice for $83.80 and is redeemable at face value on Jan. 1, 1924. The $1,000 certificate is to be sold by banks for $838. The certificates are redeemable at this price so their value cannot become lower. The certificates can be registered with the United States Treasury Department as protection against loss.

As an additional inducement War Savings Certificates of the issue of 1919 can be exchanged for the new issue.
